Linbilities, $1,500,600, Barrowed | Assets, the Colinteral-Forces Lonn From a Bank. Grovesteen & Pell, the stock brokerage firm which was unable to take care of its loans on Wednesday, made an assignment yesterday to Philip W. Harding of the Stock Exchange. The liabilities were estimated at about $1,500. stood that this last amount is the par value of the bonds the firm was trying to float, while the liabilities are what the firm has borrowed upon pledge of the bonds.

The bonds are chiefly those of the East and West Rallroad of Alabama and of the Rome and Decatur Railroad. The firm also used as collateral some South Carolino Bailroad second morigages, stock of the American Loan and Trust Company, and preferred stock of the Commercial Telegram Company, of which George H. Pell of the firm is Vice-President.

The liabilities of the firm are pretty widely distributed outside of a few large amounts. The principal creditors are the American Loan and Trust Company $250.000, the Bank of the State of New York $185.000, and the National Bank of Commerce $100.000. The other ionas are less than $100.000 each. The total amount borrowed of Stock Exchange firms is $165.000. The largest of these loans is $25.000. The Chemical Bank, the St. Nicholas bank, and the Central Trust Company are among the smaller creditors.

Dorrowed of Stock Exchange firms is $165,000. The Chemical Eank, the St. Nicholas hank, and the smaller creditors.

Join R. Dos Passos, counsel to the assignee, spent year one-half of them in point of interest to extend their loans for six months, in order to give the radiroads in which the firm was interested a chance, and also to afford an opportunity to sell the bonds without sacrificing them. Mr Dos Passos said that from the success he met with yes erday he was quite hopeful that all of the creditors would consult their own bests interests and give the firm a chance to work itself out. Now that the troubles of the firm have become public, it is learned that it has had a hard time for several weeks trying to get its bonds carried.

The manner in which the Bank of the State of Now York becomes a large creditor reflects upon the firm. President Edwards said yesterlay that he was deceived in the matter by Mr Hanill on Pell, the active business man of the firm. Mr. Edwards had not cared for the firm's account: an the centrary, had declined it, but a chort time ago he made the firm a small loan of $25,000 upon some of the bonds, largely upon Mr. Pell's representation that the bonds had been sold abroad through Drexel. Morgan & Co., but that the bunk which to take them. About two weeks ago Mr. Pell said that Drexel, Morgan & Co., would take part of the bonds the following day, and as they were in small loans around the street, he would like to get some of these into the bank, so as to simplify the tran-action of turning them over to Drexel, Morgan & Co., Would the part of the bonds the policy of the same way without one of the bonds. Last Friday, during President Edwards absone from town and after the cashier had gone for the day the firm made good their account for the day the firm made

NO MORE MONEY FOR KNIGHTS.

D. A. 51 Lays Down on Its Ob Igations to the Master Workman Dodd of District Assembly 51 of Newark addressed a few of the striking leather workers at the assembly rooms yesterday morning, and made a confession of weakness. The object of his speach was to let the men know why there was no more money forthcoming for some days. He said that he had got $2,000 from somewhere on Saturday, but would not tell his hea ers where he got it or how it was raised; $1,000 more had been contributed by local assemblies, and he had raised an additional $200 on his own responsiraised an additional $200 on his own responsibility. Mr. Dold said that he had told Mr. Powderly that it would need $10,000 to get over the Newark troubles, and that he was answered that the money could not be drawn in a moment, but that certain formalities must be gone through with, and an appeal would have to be made to the General Executive Board; and this was a question of some time, because it was difficult to get a full Board together. Mr. Dodd did not say so plainly, but its address conveyed the impression that no more money was coming, and yet planty, but his address conveyed the impres-sion that no more money was coming, and yet he cautioned the men against expressing dis-satisfaction with the district assembly, and said that it had been so anxious to give them money that it had bet ebts run on and no-glected to pay other obligations in order to pay the leather workers. He closed by assur-ing them that more money would be forthcom-ing in time, but could not say how long it would be:

ing in time, but could not say now long it would be.

Teutonia Assembly 5,693 has severed its connection with the Knights of Labor and proposes to go into the Trades Assembly. The assembly was composed entirely of Gormans employed in various trades, and they are all dissatisfied with the working of the district assembly. The dissatisfaction has been growing for some time, and the membership fell from 189 to less than 59. Before disbanding, the money in the treasury (only $13) was voted to German Tanners' Assembly.

IS RIEMENSCHNEIDER HERE? An Enterprising Firm of Publishers Bantshed

from Benmark for Counterfelling. A Copenhagen newspaper of July 20 announced that the well-known counterfelter Riemenschneider had been transported to America by order of the Department of Justice, by way of a commutation of the last few months of his sentence. The paper states also that Riemenschneider had already left Denmark with his family in a vessel of the Thingvalla line, whose officers were under orders not to land blen anywhere except on American soil At the office of the Danish Consul in this city it was said yesterday that nothing was known of the matter. The Thingvalla agent says that his attention was called to the report about three weeks ago by a man who called at the company's office, said that he was a detective, and presented a clipping from a Danish or Norwegian newspaper containing a similar report. The agent said that no such name as that of the counterjet erappeared upon the company's wegian newspaper containing a similar report. The agent said that no such name as that of the counterfelverappeared upon the company's passenger lists.

The probability is that if Riemenschneider is here he came over in the first or second cabin to avoid examination at Castle Garden, and also that he travelled under an assumed name. At any rate he is probably at a safe distance by this time, but the story of his crime, as related yesterday by a Danish gentleman who happened to be in Copenhagen at the time of the trial, is interesting.

Riemenschneider was a publisher, and had as a partner one Solemon, who had formerly been employed in a bank. While there he amised himself imitating currency notes, in which he was so successful as to arouse the admiration of his fellow clerks. He once made a bill in which even experts could find no defect; even the water mark was reproduced exactly. Afterward he joined Riemenschneider in the publishing business. The firm soon began to attract the attention of all Copenhagen by their display of prosperity. Their office was one of the finest in the city, and was not only handsomely, but extravagantiy furnished. The partners delighted to give small dinners, and soon gathered about them the gilded youth of the money aristocracy. Both were fond of horses, and finemenschneider particularly had a stable equal to any in Denmark. Their fibernlity toward authors became proverbial. A man had only to enter their office, announce that he had a book he would like them to publish request an advance of a few hundred crowns on the probable profit, and his porket would be filled by the benevolent publishers.

One day in 1883 Riemenschneider went to a bank and asked to have a 1,000 crown note changed.

The tolier discovered that the link with which it was printed was not yet dry. It was the last note that these enterprising publishers had produced, and they never issued a second edition. The whole story came out, and the plates and tools used in the work were found in the spiendid office.

New York's Little Laundryman Defeats the

There was a genuine Chinese wrestling There was a genuine Chinese wrestling match yesterday in the rear yard at 18 Mott street, in which little Mark Foy Yin, a laundryman of this city, defeated Moy Cht, a Philadelphia athlete. The little yard was crowled with Chinese sports, who paid 25 cents each to see the match, and put up all the rest of their small silver in beiting on the contestants. No bets above $10 were permitted by the management and all winners of heis were pledged to pay I per cent to the lucky wrester. The wrestlers also divided 75 per cent. of the rate receipts.

Chinese sports judge wreatlers by their agility and cleverness as pugilists rather than with any reference to respective size, weight, or strength. The quickest man gets there. It was to clock when the wrestlers man gets there. It was a octors when the westers entered the ring stripped to the waisrs, and their limbs thristy bound in strips of strong time cotton cloth. Fong was manager, at die declared the terms of the match to be the best three out of four rounds.

The two athletes began sparring for an advantage, doubting about the ring for ten minutes before little black. For Vin got his right leg in front of his adversary's while with a sudden push he three the light Moy in a min pudule flat before the admiring gaze of the crowd.

The betters were wild with excitement. From even money the odds on Mark now rose to 0 to 1. In the second round Nov got Mark as neck in his hands ver, much as if it were a rooter's, and began to wring it, while Mark's arms were reacting out whilly to clutch a single breach of air. Fresenity Mark dropped. The cating to breach of air. Fresenity Mark dropped. The last work as pointed was too much for him, and each man had work as pointed with the Nove in the right foot on Nove in the third second. had won a point.

Mark got in his right foot on Moy in the third round and threw him down upon all fours. Mark won the fourth round and the match in quick order and the howling and hat the round got and the histories of the bys. anders, and several dolars in bets changed hands.

The unless of the crewd attracted the attention of the police, and as Besentiers Jack Olitical and Murphy entered the yard the thina en walked absent-mindedly out as if nothing at all had happened.

A Healthy Stemach

Is a blessing for which thousands of our dyspentic countrymen and women sigh in vain, and to obtain which swallow much medicine unavailingly. For no allmentprobably-are there so many alleged remedies as for dyspepsia. The man of humbug is constantly guitted with the dollars and dimes of those who resort to one nostrum after another, in the vain hope of obtaining relief, at east, from this vexatious and obstinate mainly. Experience indicates Hosterter's Stomach Eliters as a means of gradiesting dyspepels. In which a firm reliance can be placed. No remedy has in three decades and over ea-tablished such a reputation, none has received such unqualified professional sanction. It is an admirable invigorant, because it enriches the blood, and not only this but it thoroughly regulates the bowels, hidneys, and biadFABIAN'S BRIEF SPORTING LIFE.

Dr. Joseph Fabian, a specislist, at 223 Vine street, Philadelphia, on Aug. 15. Through a forged order in his father's name, he got Drexel & Co. of that town to cash the bonds and came to this city with his booty He devoted himself to the horse races by day and wine drinking by night. The Philadelphia police called on Inspector Byrnes to arrest him, and Detectives Heard and Sheldon, by means of a bait in the shape of a "personal, caught their lish in Fark row on Wednesday. Although he had been attending the races. Fabian still had all but a lew hundred dollars of the stolen money, he having deposited $7,000 in the Fulton Bank of Brooklyn. He had generally been successful in his betting on the races. He had been living at a down-town hotel under the name of Charles Wilson. He will be taken back to Philadelphila, where requisition rappers have been obtained, which will probably he by Monday.

Enlian told the detectives that he took his share of his inther's money to keep it from going ultimately to his in her's housekeeper. Dr. Fabian, however, claims that he had to reduce his son's allowance because he was a spendithrift. and wine drinking by night. The Philadelphia
